What is RuubikCMS?

RuubikCMS is an open source website content management tool which is designed to be user-friendly for both the end-user and the webmaster.

In our vision the end-user should be able to create and update webpages quickly without learning any special skills (no coding, HTML or CSS). For the webmaster a RuubikCMS site should be easy to install and manage but still flexible to allow modifications. In any case installing should be so easy that a designing oriented webmaster doesn't need any coding or database skills.

For the end-user:

- Easily publish web pages and news
- Easily add images and other files
- No HTML or any other coding skills required
- WYSIWYG editing and easy multiple file uploads out of the box

For the webmaster/designer:

- Easy to install and customize
- Works with any XHTML/CSS website template
- No MySQL database needed (uses SQLite)
- Important SEO features and search engine friendly URLs
- News, snippets, user management, roles and more
- Easily include PHP scripts and other custom content in webpages
